

Biblioteca Regional de Madrid

GOVERNMENT FORCES MAKE THEIR LAST
ATTACK ON THE ALCAZAR.

With the insurgents' relief force almost on top of the city, the loyalist forces which for weeks had been trying to oust the rebels from the Alcazar fortress of Toledo made a desperate attempt to eject the tenacious defenders from the ruins. Despite the fierce fighting, the heartened rebels managed to hold their ground until the arrival of the relief column.

PHOTO SHOWS:- Government militiamen waiting at the foot of the Alcazar to take part in the last attempt to wrest it from the rebels.

VOI September 30th 1936 PN.r.

DUPLICATE SENT

12.26 P.M. 3rd SEP 1936

TO MANCHESTER

LP 270

PLANET NEWS LTD

3, JOHNSON'S COURT,

LONDON, E.C. 4.

PHONE: CENT. 3671 & 3672.