FROM ITS CONQUEST BY THE ROMANS B.C. 146, TO THE PRESENT TIME.

BY JAMES EMERSON TENNANT, ESQ., M.P.

Two large Vols. 8vo. 16s.

"This important work will supply a deficiency often felt and regretted in English literature. The annals of the country, which at every stage abound with the strongest interest, are followed up to the present day, and include a history of the late Revolution."—Globe.

THE SPIRIT OF THE EAST.

BY D. URQUHART, ESQ.

Author of "Turkey and its Resources." Second Edition, 2 vols. 8vo. 23s.

"This is certainly one of the most interesting and valuable works of modern times. The information, the learning, the admirable pictures of mankind in the eastern countries which the author lays before us—the views of religion, legislation, social life, government, and history—the errors he clears up, and the facts, hitherto almost unknown, which he establishes—the felicity of his illustrations, and the sprightliness of his narrative, make this one of the works of an age."—Tyne Mercury.

THREE YEARS IN CANADA;

AN ACCOUNT OF THE ACTUAL STATE OF THAT COUNTRY.

BY JOHN MACTAGGART, ESQ.

Civil Engineer in the Service of the British Government.

Two Vols. small 8vo. 18s.

"A most valuable work—equally useful to the politician, the emigrant, the merchant, the planter, and the man of science."—Morning Chronicle.

MR. BREMNER'S NORWAY, DENMARK, AND SWEDEN;

WITH NOTICES OF THE STATE OF PUBLIC OPINION IN THOSE COUNTRIES, AND ANECDOTES OF THEIR COURTS.

Two Vols. 8vo., with Portraits, 28s. bound.

"There is not a single reader of Mr. Bremner's admirable book on Russia, who will not be delighted again to encounter a traveller who unites in himself so many excellent qualities. With liveliness and bon-homme to please the most idle of readers; with good sense and impartiality to satisfy the most critical; with activity, information, and judgment, to turn all these good qualities to account, and a position in society that enables him to do so; these are the characteristics which Mr. Bremner brings to the concoction of this new work. On every subject which it touches—politics, statistics, public feeling, social habits and condition, agriculture, letters, science, personal character—all is treated with impartiality and strong good sense."—New Monthly.

"This work is one of the highest interest. The author enjoyed constant opportunities of gratifying our curiosity respecting the Emperor, from living in his household, passing many hours daily in his society, either conversing with him, hearing him read, and comment on, the works of various authors, or writing at his dictation."—

LITERARY HISTORY & CORRESPONDENCE.MEMOIRS OF THE LITERARY LADIES OF ENGLAND.

BY MRS. ELWOOD.

Two Vols. post 8vo., with Portraits. 21s. bound.

"The literary ladies of England, who have written since the commencement of the last century, form a brilliant list, many of the most beautiful and permanently useful portions of our literature being the productions of female pens. A collection of memoirs of those eminent persons was much wanted, and Mrs. Elwood's work supplies the desideratum. It will furnish, especially to young readers of her own sex, much instructive matter in an interesting form. Mrs. Elwood's chief qualifications as a biographer are industry, good sense, and impartiality."—Chronicle.

CONVERSATIONS WITH MADAME CAMPAN : Comprising Original Anecdotes of the FRENCH COURT ; also selections from Her Correspondence ; her Thoughts on Education, &c.

One Vol. 8vo., 10s. 6d. French, 7s.

"We entertained a very high idea of the talents and virtues of Madame Campan, from her life of the unfortunate Marie Antoinette, and the present work has not altered our opinion : indeed, her letters to her son ought to be read by every boy in Europe, as an antidote to the Letters of Lord Chesterfield. He will here find all that is useful inculcated, without the least mixture of baseness or of looseness of principle."—Times.

NARRATIVE OF A TEN YEARS' VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY ROUND THE WORLD OF H.M.S. ADVENTURE AND BEAGLE, UNDER THE COMMAND OF CAPTAINS KING AND FITZROY.

In Two large Vols. 8vo., with Maps, Charts, and upwards of Sixty Illustrations, by Landseer, and other eminent Artists, price 2l. 18s. bound.

"One of the most interesting narratives of voyaging that it has fallen to our lot to notice, and which must always occupy a distinguished space in the history of scientific agitation."—Quarterly Rev.

These volumes detail the various incidents which occurred during the examination of the Southern Shores of South America, and the Beagle's circumnavigation of the Globe, and add considerably to our knowledge of Hydrography, Geography, and Natural History, and of the Habits, &c. of the Aborigines. There will be found in them the materials of two distinct works, embracing everything worthy of notice in the expeditions during a period of nearly ten years. The first volume, by Captain P. P. King, F.R.S., relates to the expedition under his command, with an Appendix by Major Sabine, R.A., F.R.S., containing discussions on the magnetic observations made during the voyages. The second volume is by Captain Robert Fitzroy, and relates to the second voyage, with an Appendix, giving the determination of many positions and measurements of meridian distances, and other nautical information. The work is beautifully illustrated with etchings and engravings on steel, by Mr. Landseer and other eminent artists, from drawings by Mr. Martens and Mr. Earle; and with Charts and Plans by Mr. Gardner and Messrs. Walker: and an entirely new Map of South America, by Mr. J. Arrow-smith, in which the position of places may be ascertained to within less than two miles. In the volumes notices will be found of the Cape Verd, Falkland, and other Islands in the Atlantic Ocean—of the coasts of South America, from Pernambuco to Guayaquil—of the Galapagos Islands—the dangerous Archipelago, or Low Islands—Otaheite—New Zealand—Australia—The Keeling Islands—Mauritius—the Cape of Good Hope, &c.

N. B. Mr. Darwin's Journal of the Geology and Natural History of the Voyage may be had in a single volume, 8vo. price 18s. bound.

NARRATIVE OF A VOYAGE ROUND THE WORLD,

PERFORMED IN H.M.S. "SULPHUR," IN 1836—42.

BY CAPTAIN SIR EDWARD BELCHER, C.B., F.R.A.S., F.G.S., &c., COMMANDER OF THE EXPEDITION.

Published under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.
Two Vols. 8vo. with upwards of 40 Illustrations, price 36s. bound

"Of these volumes it is impossible to speak too highly. We can conceive no occupation likely to afford more authentic and important knowledge, or to yield at the same time more amusement and delight than the perusal of the work before us. We are carried over every variety of the world's surface, and in language, elegant, terse, and comprehensive, we are made acquainted with all habits of human life—with every phase of the species, from the rudest to the most polished. Such are the attractions to the general reader of these most interesting records. The authority under which the publication appears, is sufficient warranty of its accuracy in science, and of its importance to the naval profession. To scientific or nautical readers, therefore, it is superfluous to recommend it. We invite our readers to a perusal of this work, which we promise them will amply repay any time and trouble they may bestow upon it. To the lore of the scholar, and to the library of every house, it offers an equally necessary and elegant addition."—John Bull.

SPORTING.

WILD SPORTS
IN EUROPE, ASIA, AND AFRICA.BY LIEUTENANT-COLONEL NAPIER, AUTHOR OF "SCENES AND SPORTS IN FOREIGN LANDS," &c.

Two Vols. small 8vo., with Plates, 21s. bound.

"Colonel Napier's new work will not only be received with a hearty welcome by every sportsman, but be found not less attractive to the general reader. The list of sports described comprehends—in shooting, from the wild pigeon and quail to the hawk and eagle; in hunting, from the fox to the wild boar and bull; besides numerous piscatorial adventures. Independently, however, of the sporting details, the many amusing personal anecdotes and sketches of the Colonel's brother officers and associates, give extraordinary vivacity to his pages. The work is illustrated with some capital engravings."—Bell's Life.

HYDE MARSTON;
A SPORTING NOVEL.

BY CRAVEN.

Three Vols. post 8vo., 31s. 6d.

"Among the various species of 'Life' which this lively and pleasant writer has undertaken to illustrate, the following are but a few:—Life at Oxford—Club Life—Life at Doncaster—Life at Paris—Life at the Seat of a Leicestershire Squire—Life under the Cotswold Hills—Life in Dublin—Life on the Curragh—Life at Moulsey Hurst, &c. A large proportion of the scenes are actual transcripts from the reality; and it is equally certain that many of the characters are drawn from 'originals.'"—New Monthly.

HANDLEY CROSS. A SPORTING NOVEL.

By the Author of "Jorrocks' Jaunts and Jollities." 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"We hope we have done enough (says the Quarterly Review, at the close of its notice of this work) to bring Jorrocks fairly before the non-sporting part of the public—the others will not need our recommendation. His historian, it must be obvious, is a writer of no common promise. The easy style in which the author of 'Handley Cross' arranges and draws out his characters, satisfies us that he might, if he pleased, take a high place among our modern novelists. He has a world of knowledge of life and manners beyond what most of those now in vogue can pretend to, and a gentlemanlike tone and spirit, perhaps even rarer among them."—Quarterly Review, March 1843.
