

BEBELS TRAPPED AS GOVERNMENT MILITIA CLOSE IN
ON RUINED HEADQUARTERS.

Many famous buildings, some of the finest examples of architecture in Spain, have been reduced to masses of smoking ruins in the civil war now raging throughout the country. seized at the outbreak of revolution by the insurgents, the buildings have been mercilessly bombed by Government forces.

The famous Alcazar in Toledo, where the rebels held out for days against the Government, was razed to the ground.

PHOTO SHOWS: Government militia closing in on rebels barricaded in the ruins of the Alcazar in Toledo.

CCN August 1st 1936 PN.g.

LP 270

COPYRIGHT

PLANET NEWS LTD

9551 50V 25, JOHNSON'S COURT,
1936

LONDON, E.C. 4.

PHONE: CENT. 3671 & 3672.