

CONTENTS.

| | Page | | Page |
|---|------|--|------|
| CHAPTER XVI. | | Unwillingness of the Spaniards to | |
| TREATY between Great Britain and Spain | 1 | believe that Morla was a traitor | 28 |
| Surrender of Coruña | 2 | Proofs of his prior treachery | 29 |
| Situation and strength of Ferrol | 4 | Morla's letter to the Central Junta | ib. |
| Surrender of Ferrol | 5 | His letter to the governor of Cadiz | 30 |
| Exultation of the French | 6 | Arrest and cruel imprisonment of the | |
| Pursuit of Romana's army | 8 | French at Cadiz | 32 |
| Dismay in Galicia | ib. | Death of Florida Blanca | ib. |
| Romana retreats toward Monterrey | 9 | Marques de Astorga chosen president | |
| Blake leaves the army | 10 | of the Central Junta | 33 |
| The French cease the pursuit | 11 | Catalonia | 34 |
| Buonaparte is advised that Austria | | Siege of Barcelona | 35 |
| is arming | 12 | St. Cyr appointed to command the | |
| Change in his views concerning Spain | ib. | French | 36 |
| He returns to France | 14 | He determines upon besieging Rosas | 37 |
| His professions to the Spaniards at | | Dilapidated state of that fortress | 39 |
| Madrid | 15 | Preparations for the siege | ib. |
| Registers opened | 18 | British squadron in the Bay of Rosas | 40 |
| The people of Madrid take the oath | | Disposition of the Italian troops to | |
| of allegiance to Joseph | 19 | desert | 42 |
| Addresses to the Intruder | ib. | Attack upon Fort Trinidad repulsed | 43 |
| Edicts of the Intruder before his re- | | The French establish themselves in | |
| turn to Madrid | 21 | the town | 44 |
| His entrance into Madrid | 22 | Lord Cochrane arrives, and throws | |
| Edicts against the patriots | 23 | himself into Fort Trinidad | ib. |
| Circular epistle to the clergy | 24 | Gallant defence of the fort | 45 |
| Condition of Madrid | 25 | The citadel captured, and the fort | |
| False intelligence published by the | | evacuated | 46 |
| intrusive government | 27 | St. Cyr marches to relieve Barcelona | 47 |
| | | He discovers a mountain path near | |
| | | Hostalrich | 48 |

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|--|------|
| Indecision of General Vives | 50 | Sir Robert Wilson | 77 |
| He marches against the French | 51 | He raises a Portugueze legion at Porto | 78 |
| Rout of the Spaniards at Llinas | ib. | Sir Robert goes to Ciudad Rodrigo | 79 |
| Retreat of the Spaniards from Barcelona to the Llobregat | 53 | He refuses to return to Porto | 80 |
| St. Cyr marches against them | 54 | Effect of his movements | 81 |
| Indecision of the Spaniards | 55 | Part of the legion detained at Porto | 82 |
| The Spaniards routed and pursued to Tarragona | 57 | Displeasure of the authorities there | ib. |
| | | Rank given him by the Spanish government | ib. |
| | | Proposal that British troops should be admitted into Cadiz | 83 |
| CHAPTER XVII. | | Objections of the Spanish government | 84 |
| The Spaniards not discouraged by their reverses | 60 | Troops arrive in the bay | 85 |
| Condition of Infantado's army at Cuenca | 61 | Mr. Frere's representations to the Central Junta | 86 |
| Dreams of offensive operations | 62 | Reply of the Spanish government | 87 |
| Movement against the French at Tarancon | 63 | Their proposal for employing the troops | ib. |
| Venegas falls back from Tarancon to Ucles | ib. | Conference with Mr. Frere | 88 |
| Rout of the Spaniards at Ucles | 64 | Mr. Frere requests Cuesta's opinion | 90 |
| Cruelties committed there by the French | 66 | Cuesta's reply | 91 |
| Infantado collects the fugitives | 67 | Close of the discussion | 92 |
| Retreat from Cuenca | 68 | Insurrection at Cadiz | 95 |
| Loss of the artillery | 69 | Confidence of the people in the English | 97 |
| Infantado frustrates a movement of the enemy against the Carolina army | 70 | Proclamation of the governor | ib. |
| He is superseded by Cartaojal | 71 | Murder of D. Juan de Heredia | 98 |
| Calumnies against Castaños | 72 | The tumult subsides | ib. |
| His memorial to the Central Junta | 74 | Proclamation of the Central Junta | ib. |
| Conde de Montijo's intrigues | 75 | | |
| Progress of the French in Castille and Leon | ib. | CHAPTER XVIII. | |
| New levies raised by the Spaniards | 76 | Castaños accused at Zaragoza as a traitor | 101 |
| Temporizing conduct of certain magistrates | 77 | State of public feeling in that city | 102 |
| | | Measures of precaution | ib. |
| | | None of the inhabitants leave the city | 104 |
| | | Supposed miracles | ib. |

CONTENTS.

v

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|---|------|
| Works of defence | 105 | They establish themselves in the | |
| The city crowded with soldiers | 108 | Trinidad Convent | 127 |
| Preparations within the city | ib. | Convents of S. Augustin and S. | |
| Marshal Moncey reconnoitres the | | Monica won | 128 |
| Torrero | 109 | The enemy proceed by mining | 129 |
| The French appear before the city | ib. | Progress of the pestilence | 130 |
| They take the Torrero | ib. | First talk of surrender in the city | 132 |
| Unsuccessful attack upon the suburbs | 111 | The contest carried on by fire | ib. |
| Moncey summons Palafox to sur- | | Convent of Jesus in the suburb | |
| render | ib. | taken | 133 |
| The investment of the city com- | | St. Francisco taken | 134 |
| pleted | 112 | The French begin to murmur | 135 |
| Proclamation of Palafox to the peo- | | Not even an attempt is made to re- | |
| ple of Madrid | 114 | lieve the city | 136 |
| Junot takes the command of the | | The suburbs taken | 138 |
| French | ib. | The university taken | 139 |
| St. Joseph's and the Redoubt of the | | Palafox transfers his authority to a | |
| Pillar taken | 115 | Junta | ib. |
| Rumours of success, and rejoicings | | Condition of the besieged | ib. |
| in the city | ib. | Flag of truce sent to the French | 141 |
| An infectious disease appears in the | | Last efforts of the besieged | 142 |
| city | 116 | D. Pedro Maria Ric goes out to | |
| Attempts of Lazan and Francisco | | treat with Marshal Lasnes | 143 |
| Palafox to succour the city | 117 | Capitulation | 145 |
| Condition of the army in Catalonia | 118 | Farther conditions asked, and re- | |
| Reding takes the command | 119 | fused | 146 |
| The army re-formed at Tarragona | 120 | Conduct of the French | 147 |
| Conduct of the French under St. | | Treatment of the prisoners | 148 |
| Cyr | 121 | Palafox compelled by threats of | |
| Orders to attempt the relief of Za- | | death to sign orders for delivering | |
| ragoza | 123 | up four fortresses | 150 |
| Tardiness in obeying them | 124 | He is sent into France | ib. |
| Defeat of the peasantry | ib. | Demands of the French | 151 |
| Alcaniz occupied by the French | ib. | Lasnes makes his entrance | 152 |
| Movements in Navarre and Aragon | ib. | Baseness of the suffragan bishop | ib. |
| Marshal Lasnes takes the command | 125 | Language of the French upon their | |
| He summons Palafox to surrender | ib. | triumph | 153 |
| The French enter the city, but with | | Decree of the Central Junta | 154 |
| great loss | 126 | Address to the nation | 155 |

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|---|------|
| Honours decreed to the inhabitants of Zaragoza | 157 | Surrender of Chaves | 174 |
| Falsehoods of the French govern- ment | 158 | The French establish their hospital there | 175 |
| CHAPTER XIX. | | | |
| Portugal threatened by the French | 160 | Preparations for defence at Porto | 176 |
| Preparations of the English for eva- cuating Lisbon | ib. | Advance of the French from Chaves | 177 |
| Address of the Portugueze Regency to the nation | 161 | Tumults at Braga | 178 |
| State of public feeling at Lisbon . . | ib. | General Freire murdered | 179 |
| Marshal Soult ordered to enter Por- tugal from Galicia | 163 | The Portugueze routed before Braga | 181 |
| Difficulty of providing for the French army | ib. | The French enter Braga | 182 |
| His confidence of success | 164 | They appear before Porto | 183 |
| Combined plans of the French | ib. | Oliveira murdered | 184 |
| Vigo and Tuy occupied by the French | 165 | The Bishop leaves the city | ib. |
| Preparations for crossing the Minho below Tuy | ib. | Porto taken | 185 |
| Failure of the attempt | 166 | Massacre there | 186 |
| Soult marches by way of Orense . . . | 167 | Soult remains in Porto | 187 |
| Romana rouses the Galicians | ib. | Disposition of the inhabitants . . . | 188 |
| Opinion of his strength | 168 | Marshal Soult's views respecting the Liberals and the Jews | 189 |
| Villages burnt by the French | ib. | His hopes of becoming King of Northern Lusitania | 190 |
| Intended plan of co-operation be- tween Romana and Silveira | 169 | He visits the Church of N. Senhor de Bouças | 192 |
| Difference between Marshals Soult and Ney | ib. | Chaves retaken by Silveira | 195 |
| Rout of Romana's army | 170 | Proceedings at Coimbra | 196 |
| The French remove their sick and wounded to Monterrey | 171 | Colonel Trant takes a position upon the Vouga | 199 |
| Situation of Chaves | 172 | Cruelties of the French | 200 |
| Silveira retires from Chaves | 173 | Positions of the French and Portu- gueze | 202 |
| Some mutinous officers resolve to defend it | ib. | Romana captures the garrison at Villa Franca | ib. |
| | | Efforts of the Galicians | 204 |
| | | Barrios sent into Galicia | 206 |
| | | The Portugueze and Galicians blockade Tuy | 207 |
| | | Vigo | ib. |
| | | The Spaniards appear before Vigo | 208 |
| | | Recapture of that place | 209 |
| | | Blockade of Tuy | 212 |

| | Page | | Page |
|---------------------------------------|------|---|------|
| Mr. Whitbread | 257 | Laborde sent to attack Silveira at | |
| Mr. Croker | 259 | Amarante | 294 |
| Mr. Whitbread's speech circulated | | State of Penafiel when the French | |
| by the French government | 260 | entered | ib. |
| Debates on the campaign in Portu- | | The Bridge of Amarante | 295 |
| gal | ib. | Lieutenant-Colonel Patrick killed in | |
| Both parties agree in extolling Sir | | defending it | 296 |
| John Moore | 261 | The French endeavour to throw a | |
| Inquiry into the campaign in Spain | | bridge over the river | 297 |
| called for | ib. | Repeated attempts to effect the | |
| Lord Grenville | ib. | passage | 298 |
| Lord Erskine | 262 | Plan for demolishing the Portugueze | |
| Mr. Ponsonby | ib. | entrenchments | 299 |
| Lord Castlereagh | 265 | The French win the bridge | 300 |
| Mr. Tierney | ib. | Situation of the enemy | ib. |
| Mr. Canning | 267 | Sir Arthur Wellesley lands at Lisbon | 301 |
| Mr. Windham | 270 | He communicates his plans to Cuesta | 302 |
| Sir John Moore's dispatches | 275 | Views of the Philadelphes in Mar- | |
| Mr. Frere's correspondence with Sir | | shal Soult's army | 303 |
| John Moore | 278 | The Sieur d'Argenton goes to Sir | |
| Earl Grey | 279 | Arthur Wellesley to explain their | |
| Earl of Liverpool | 280 | views | 305 |
| Mr. Canning | 282 | Advance of the British army towards | |
| Earl Grey | 285 | Porto | 307 |
| Expedition to the Scheldt | 286 | D'Argenton is arrested | ib. |
| Troops sent to Portugal | 287 | Soult prepares to retreat from Por- | |
| Earl of Buckinghamshire | ib. | tugal | 308 |
| | | The French driven from Albergaria | 309 |
| | | They are driven from their position | |
| | | at Grijó | 310 |
| | | Measures of Soult to prevent the | |
| | | passage of the Douro | 311 |
| | | Passage of that river | ib. |
| | | Deliverance of Porto | 313 |
| | | Soult and Loison effect a junction | |
| | | on their retreat | 315 |
| | | Sir Arthur pursues the French | 316 |
| | | Sufferings of the enemy in their | |
| | | flight | 317 |

CHAPTER XXII.

| | |
|--|-----|
| Feelings of the Portugueze toward | |
| the English | 289 |
| Sir Arthur Wellesley's instructions | 290 |
| General Beresford appointed com- | |
| mander-in-chief of the Portugueze | |
| army | ib. |
| He begins to reform the army | 291 |
| Intercepted letter from General | |
| Kellermann to Soult | 293 |

CONTENTS.

ix

| | Page | | Page |
|---|------|--|------|
| Loss of the French at Puente de Misarella | 318 | Address of the Central Junta to the Galicians | 338 |
| The pursuit given over at Montalegre | ib. | | |
| Movement of troops from Aragon | 319 | | |
| Reasons for not continuing the pursuit | ib. | CHAPTER XXIII. | |
| Victor enters Portugal by way of Alcantara, and speedily retreats | 320 | Proceedings of the French after the fall of Zaragoza | 342 |
| Soult reaches Orense | 321 | State of the Catalan army | 343 |
| Romana enters Asturias, and displaces the Junta | ib. | Reding determines to act on the offensive | 344 |
| Combined movements of the French against Romana | 322 | The Spaniards driven from Igualada | 346 |
| Romana escapes by sea | 323 | Failure of the French against the Abbey of the S. Creus | ib. |
| Ney returns into Galicia | ib. | Reding takes the field, and collects his scattered troops | 348 |
| The French in Lugo relieved by Soult | 324 | He is advised to retreat | 349 |
| Mahy returns to Mondoñedo | 323 | Battle of Valls | 352 |
| The French driven from Compostella | ib. | The French received at Reus | 354 |
| Combined operations of Marshals Ney and Soult in Galicia | 326 | Arrangement concerning the wounded | 355 |
| Romana rejoins his army | 327 | Alarm at Tortosa | ib. |
| Proceedings of Soult | ib. | Lazan separates his army from Reding's command | 356 |
| Cruelties exercised by the French | 329 | Mortality in Tarragona | 357 |
| Defeat of the French at the Bridge of S. Payo | ib. | St. Cyr removes to the plain of Vicq | 358 |
| The Spaniards retaliate upon the invaders | 331 | Vicq deserted by its inhabitants | 360 |
| Soult retreats out of Galicia | 332 | Arrest of the persons in office at Barcelona for refusing the oath | 361 |
| Ferrol and Coruña evacuated by the French | ib. | Prisoners sent into France | 362 |
| Soult complains of certain officers | 334 | Barcelona relieved by sea | 363 |
| He recommends a plan for securing Galicia | ib. | Reding dies of his wounds | ib. |
| Romana summoned to take his place in the Central Junta | 335 | Peasants of the Vallés | 364 |
| He orders a monument to be erected to Sir John Moore | 337 | Blake appointed to the command | 366 |
| His farewell to the army | ib. | Movements of the Aragonese | ib. |
| | | Monzon recovered by the Spaniards | 367 |
| | | Capture of a French detachment | 368 |
| | | Blake moves upon Alcañiz | 369 |
| | | The French withdraw | 371 |
| | | Suchet comes against him | ib. |
| | | Defeat of the French before Alcañiz | 372 |

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|---|------|
| Anniversary of the insurrection at Valencia | 374 | Opportunity of attacking the French lost by Cuesta's indecision | 402 |
| Celebration of S. Ferdinand's day | 375 | Distress of the British army for means of transport | 403 |
| Executions in Barcelona | 376 | Sir Arthur halts | 404 |
| Blake advances toward Zaragoza | 377 | Cuesta advances in pursuit of the French | ib. |
| Suchet attacks the Spaniards | 379 | Junction of Joseph and Sebastiani with Victor | 405 |
| Blake retreats to Belchite | ib. | Cuesta's vanguard attacked by the French | 406 |
| Flight of the Spaniards | 380 | Alburquerque saves Cuesta from defeat | ib. |
| Blake's resignation not accepted | 381 | Cuesta retreats to the Alberche | 407 |
| Commencement of the Guerillas | 383 | Sir Arthur prevails on him to cross that river | 408 |
| Porlier | ib. | Position of the allies in front of Talavera | ib. |
| The Empecinado | ib. | Sir Arthur nearly made prisoner | 409 |
| Renovales in the valleys of Roncal | ib. | Battle of Talavera | 410 |
| He defeats a French detachment | 384 | Cuesta decimates some of his troops | 417 |
| A second party defeated | 385 | State of Talavera | 418 |
| Proclamation of the Duque de Mahon | ib. | Movements of Sir Robert Wilson | 419 |
| Executions and reprisals | 387 | Movements of Soult, Ney, and Mortier | 420 |
| Attempts to win over Renovales | ib. | Cuesta neglects to secure the passes | ib. |
| Troops sent from Zaragoza against him | 390 | Intelligence of Soult's advance | 421 |
| He capitulates for the valleys | 391 | Soult occupies Plasencia | 422 |
| Xavier Mina | 392 | Sir Arthur marches against him | ib. |
| Siege of Gerona commenced | 395 | Cuesta determines to follow Sir Arthur | 424 |
| | | Cuesta joins the British | 425 |
| | | They retreat across the Tagus | ib. |
| | | Colonel Mackinnon removes part of the wounded | 426 |
| | | Defeat of the Spaniards at Arzobispo | 427 |
| | | Movements of Marshal Ney | 429 |
| | | Action with Sir Robert Wilson at the Puerto de Baños | 430 |
| CHAPTER XXIV. | | | |
| Victor retreats across the Tagus | 396 | | |
| Alburquerque proposed for the command in La Mancha | 397 | | |
| Plan of detaching a Spanish force toward Segovia | 398 | | |
| Jealousy entertained of Cuesta | 399 | | |
| Sir Arthur confers with Cuesta | 400 | | |
| He requires that the passages toward the north be occupied | ib. | | |
| Junction of the British and Spanish armies | 401 | | |

CONTENTS.

xi

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|---|------|
| The French enter Talavera | 432 | His ill opinion of the Spanish go- | |
| Victor behaves well to the English | | vernment | 465 |
| wounded | ib. | Lord Wellington objects to taking | |
| Murder of the Bishop of Coria | 433 | a position on the Guadiana | 467 |
| Venegas's army kept inactive before | | Alburquerque appointed to the com- | |
| and after the battle of Talavera | 434 | mand in Extremadura | 468 |
| His useless attempt upon Toledo | 435 | Lord Wellington withdraws to Ba- | |
| He complains of Cuesta | 436 | dajoz | 469 |
| The Intruder's movements after the | | Expedition to Walcheren | 470 |
| battle | 437 | Inquiry into the conduct of the Duke | |
| Venegas prepares to fight at Aran- | | of York | 471 |
| juez | 438 | Changes in the British ministry | 472 |
| Aranjuez and its gardens | 439 | Lords Grey and Grenville refuse to | |
| The French repulsed there | 442 | join it | 473 |
| Deliberations concerning the army | | Disposition of the French and Span- | |
| of La Mancha | 443 | ish armies | 474 |
| Venegas resolves to attack the enemy | 444 | Neediness of the intrusive govern- | |
| The French attack him | 445 | ment | 475 |
| Battle of Almonacid | 446 | Measures of severity | 476 |
| | | Kellermann's edict | 477 |
| | | Measures of Joseph's ministers | ib. |
| | | The Central Junta announces that | |
| | | the Cortes will be assembled | 479 |
| | | Declaration which was first pro- | |
| | | posed | 481 |
| | | Objections to it by Mr. Frere | 483 |
| | | Unpopularity of the Central Junta | 484 |
| | | Their difficulties and errors | 485 |
| | | Scheme for overthrowing them | 490 |
| | | Commission appointed by the Junta | 492 |
| | | Romana's address | ib. |
| | | Reply of the Junta | 497 |
| | | Guerillas | 503 |
| | | D. Julian Sanchez | 504 |
| | | The French repulsed from Astorga | 505 |
| | | Battle of Tamames | 506 |
| | | The French retire from Salamanca | 507 |
| | | Marshal Soult appointed Major-Ge- | |
| | | neral | ib. |

CHAPTER XXV.

| | |
|---|-----|
| Soult proposes to invade Portugal | 449 |
| Sir Arthur Wellesley raised to the | |
| peerage | 451 |
| Marquis Wellesley arrives in Spain | 452 |
| Distress of the army for provisions | ib. |
| Disputes with Cuesta concerning | |
| supplies | 453 |
| Mr. Frere requires the removal of | |
| Cuesta | 456 |
| Cuesta resigns the command | 457 |
| Eguia succeeds ad interim | 458 |
| Calvo sent to see to the supplies | 459 |
| Lord Wellington declares his inten- | |
| tion of falling back | 460 |
| Correspondence with Eguia and Calvo | 461 |
| Marquis Wellesley proposes a plan | |
| for supplying the armies | 464 |

| | Page | | Page |
|--|------|--|------|
| The Junta resolve on risking a general action | 508 | Los Angeles taken, and the garrison put to the sword | 540 |
| Areizaga appointed to the command | ib. | Unsuccessful sally | 541 |
| State of Madrid | 509 | The French repulsed in a general assault | 542 |
| Condition of the British army | 511 | St. Cyr resolves to reduce the city by famine | 546 |
| Disposition of the French troops | ib. | O'Donnell enters the city | 547 |
| Areizaga advances from the Sierra Morena | 513 | Failure of the attempt to relieve it | 548 |
| The Austrian commissioner remonstrates against his purpose | ib. | St. Cyr gives up the command to Augereau | ib. |
| Battle of Ocaña | 514 | O'Donnell effects his retreat | 549 |
| Treatment of the prisoners | 516 | Magazines at Hostalrich taken by the French | 551 |
| Battle of Alba de Tormes | 518 | Augereau offers favourable terms | ib. |
| CHAPTER XXVI. | | | |
| Gerona | 520 | Destruction of a French convoy by the British ships | 552 |
| Strength of the garrison | 522 | Increased distress in the city | 553 |
| Crusaders enrolled | 523 | Report concerning the state of health | 554 |
| Company of S. Barbara | ib. | Some of the outworks taken by the French | 556 |
| St. Narcis appointed Generalissimo | ib. | Last sally | 557 |
| All mention of a capitulation forbidden | 524 | Alvarez becomes delirious | ib. |
| St. Cyr would have reduced the city by blockade | 525 | Capitulation | 558 |
| The bombardment begins | 526 | Death of Alvarez | 560 |
| St. Cyr draws nearer Gerona | 527 | Eroles escapes | 561 |
| S. Feliu de Guixols and Palamos taken by the French | 528 | CHAPTER XXVII. | |
| Assault of Monjuic | 529 | Buonaparte divorces the Empress Josephine | 562 |
| Succours intercepted | 532 | Farther requisition for the armies in Spain | 563 |
| The ravelin taken | 533 | Display of Spanish flags at Paris | 564 |
| Monjuic abandoned | 534 | Address of the Central Junta to the nation | 566 |
| Verdier expects the town to fall | 535 | State of public opinion in England | 570 |
| Battery planted on the cathedral | 536 | Lord Wellington's views with regard to Portugal | 572 |
| Distress of the city | 537 | The King's speech | ib. |
| Attempt to introduce succours | ib. | | |
| Garcia Conde enters with reinforcement | 539 | | |
| Inadequacy of this relief | ib. | | |