EVENTS OF OUR OWN TIME

The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the world since the beginning of the Christian era. It is divided into three periods: the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, and the Modern Age. The author discusses the political, social, and intellectual changes that have shaped the world we live in today.

The second part of the book is a detailed account of the events of the last century. It begins with the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars, and continues through the Industrial Revolution, the American Civil War, and the two World Wars. The author analyzes the causes and consequences of these events, and offers his own views on the future of the world.

The third part of the book is a collection of essays on various subjects of interest. These include the history of science, the development of the human mind, and the role of art and literature in society. The author's writing is clear and concise, and his arguments are well-supported by evidence.
